

Oh Romeo, Romeo

Guys, watch your back! There are a few more bitches in town...and you know how we love to gossip. A new ingenious site called What Do You Know About Romeo lets women tell it like it is about the guys they pick up on Match.com, eHarmony, JDate, Lavalife, and much more. Simply put in your guy's screen name and select a dating outlet, then you can either give the guy a review or read what other people wrote about him. It's not all bad, some guys get good reviews but just weren't the right fit for the future bridezilla, however a bulk of the reviews are lol funny. Ladies have to remember to keep it clean and only speak the truth...keep the libel stuff for Jerry. But really, isn't the truth stranger (and more fun) than fiction anyway?
